

A Hidden Gem

There's a quiet magic about walking into KATA Jewellery for the first time.

Tucked away in the heart of Tunbridge Wells, it feels less like entering a shop and more like stepping into an intimate gallery - the soft gleam of gold and gemstones set against handcrafted wooden cabinets, art adorning the walls, and a gentle sense of creative calm in the air.

I first discovered KATA while searching for a special Christmas gift - something meaningful, beautiful, and lasting. What I found was so much more. Every piece here tells a story, from elegant ready-to-wear designs to extraordinary fine art by local artists. It's the kind of place where you end up finding gifts for other...and perhaps a little something for yourself too.

The ready-to-wear collection is a true celebration of craftsmanship. Each piece is made by KATA's own in-house master goldsmiths using 100% recycled gold, silver, and platinum - luxury with conscience. I was particularly taken by the Aura earrings, available in white or yellow gold and set with your choice of glittering gemstones. Their delicate facets catch the light with every movement, scattering reflections like your very own disco ball - joyful, elegant, and utterly wearable.

"Beyond the beauty of the jewellery, what really sets KATA apart is the experience itself. The team's warmth and expertise make you feel genuinely looked after."
